Американски щрихи на Украинската криза

Станислав Бачев,

докторант във ВСУ "Черноризец Храбър"

Abstract: The text follows the unfolding of the pattern used by Washington in nurturing and growing of the Ukrainian crisis of 2014. It also presents the author's view of the long-term imperial strategy adopted by the United States of America in pursuing their strategic interests. Attention is paid to the possibilities for the future of the European Union as a future global player at the field of geopolitics; and that it is only possible by maintaining good, mutually-advantageous relations with Russia.
